DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Radhamohan et al (US Patent 6012437).

Claim 1-3, 10, and 11, Radhamohan et al disclose a control apparatus/method for a valve system comprising an electric source; a bridge circuit including two rows of arms that have two transistors Q5/Q1 and Q4/Q2 connected in series and diodes connected in parallel to each transistor, wherein the arms are connected in parallel to the power source (see figure 5B) and a motor is connected between the points of interconnection of transistors Q5/Q1 and Q4/Q2; and a control unit 70 for controlling the state (ON/OFF) of the power switches by using a well known PWM technique.

Claim 4, Radhamohan et al describes in column 6 lines 46-50 that the transistors being used are MOSFETs.

Claims 5 and 9, Radhamohan et al shows in figure 5B how the arms are connected together at a first point (+ power) and at a second point (- power), they also show resistors R1, R2, and R11 connected to both points of connection and a detection means for detecting current flowing through the resistors, as described in column 7 lines 11-33.

Art Unit: 2837

Claim 6, Radhamohan et al describes the first point connected to the position terminal of the power supply and the second point connected to the negative terminal of the power supply.

Claims 7 and 8, Radhamohan et al describes in the summary of the invention how their invention is used to control the valves in an internal combustion engine.

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The documents cited in form PTO-892 describe other controllers for valve systems using a bridge circuit and PWM techniques for controlling a plurality of power switches. Therefore, applicant must review the listed document before responding to this office action.
